Enterprise-Grade Dynamic Website for Research Journal Management

Prepared For:
IJFER

Prepared By:
GenCulturai

Project Objectives:

The main objective of this project is to design and develop a professional, dynamic, and user-friendly website for IJFER that showcases its research journal management platform, publications, editorial processes, and academic expertise, while enabling authors, reviewers, and readers to easily access content, submit manuscripts, and track research papers.

Key Objectives

1. Brand Representation

- Establish a strong online presence for IJFER.
- Reflect trust, academic integrity, and research excellence.

2. Publication Showcase

- Display all journals, current and past issues, and individual research papers with details.
- Provide separate pages for each article and issue for better clarity.

3. User-Friendly Navigation

- Simple navigation bar with clear categories: Home, About, Author, Indexing, Fee, Archives, Conference, FAQ, Contact.
- Sidebar menus and sub-tabs for easy access to submission portals, templates, and manuscript tracking.

4. Author and Reviewer Engagement

- Online submission and enquiry forms for authors and reviewers.
- Clear contact details and editorial information for smooth communication.

5. Responsive Design

- Fully responsive layout for desktop, tablet, and mobile devices.
- Consistent branding and readability across all devices.

6. Scalability

- Easy to add new journals, issues, articles, and content in the future.
- Flexible backend and CMS to support growth of the platform.

Page-Wise Detailed Description

1) Home Page

Left Sidebar Panel

The left sidebar acts as a quick-access menu and is divided into categorized sections:

- For Authors:
  Includes links for call for papers, submission process, paper templates, copyright forms, online paper submission, and manuscript tracking.
- Publication:
  Provides access to the current issue and previous journal issues.
- For Reviewers:
  Contains links to the editorial board and reviewer registration.

This sidebar allows users to access frequently used options without navigating away from the main content.

Main Content Area

The central portion of the webpage is the primary content display area. It dynamically presents:

- Welcome message
- Call for Papers information
- Journal overview and description
- Key features such as peer review, open access, fast publication, and publication frequency

The content is displayed in a structured and readable format to enhance user understanding.

Right Sidebar Panel

The right sidebar is used to display supplementary information. It includes:

- Latest news and announcements
- Indexing and abstracting details
- Logos of indexing services

This section helps in establishing credibility and increasing visibility of the journal.

8. Footer

- Company logo & short info
- Quick links (Home, About, Products, Contact)
- Contact details

About Us Page

1. Editor Vision

The Editor Vision sub-section communicates the journal's long-term goals and strategic objectives. It highlights the commitment of the editorial team to maintain high-quality research standards, academic integrity, and innovation in research publishing. This section serves as an overview for authors and readers, showing the direction and ethos of the journal. It may also include messages from the Editor-in-Chief emphasizing the importance of peer-reviewed research and the journal's role in advancing scientific knowledge.
